Line up draw the criminal

THEO ĐỒI CHÚNG TÔI Let your inner cartoonist roam freely in Line Up: Design the Criminal as you help identify and arrest criminals by plotting the perpetrators as described by their witnesses! A game to please budding detectives, line up raises the question: how reliable is the witness's memory and will your plan be accurate enough to help you choose the real perpetrator? Combining the creative design game with testing your super sleuthing skills, Line Up: Draw the Criminal also allows you to review the criminals you've put behind bars and consider whether or not their behavior deserves an early release. Are you going to be compassionate or are you going to punish him severely? A product of our creative form Wednesdays, Line Up: Draw the Criminal is built on the kind of creative concept that we pride ourselves on. Our second game to be released while working as a remote team due to the coronavirus pandemic, after Bake It, Line Up achieved 1.5 million downloads in its first four days and has relied on this early success. I like the concept of it, but the ads make it less enjoyable. You have to pay $1.99 to $2.99 just to get rid of them. I'm not complaining about prices. I'm complaining about the amount of ads. That's an insanely amount of ads. They may be short, but they feel it takes forever to get on their side. And if you go out and return to the game, if you work to get a new officer skin, you lose your progress. And why are there only white cops? I feel like I need to add more cops (at least skin tone wise) personally I think you need to add an adjustment option, to make the officer you play as, actually look like you. Not adding more skin tones can appear racist. I know your intention was probably not racist, but I had to report this. And some of the issues don't make sense. One time, I did everything, and I got the right person to put behind bars. (They had all 3 or 4 demands) and said innocent or what the screen says when you get it wrong. What's wrong with I'm sure it's just a glitch, but if you put that many ads to play a unique round of a game, I expect better quality. Overall, it's a nice game. Not nearly the best, but it's not the worst. TapTap install with one click Discover more games Connect with more than 60 million players Easier to find interesting games and comment comment
